Voters Have Hard Time at School Polls

Sierra Madre's $100,000 school bond proposal was lost last Friday. The announced vote stood 268 to 134 in favor of the bonds, apparently giving exactly the necessary two-thirds. But 411 votes were cast, making 274 votes necessary to carry the bonds. Nine ballots were thrown out by the election board, part of which had no mark at all. Apparently it is impossible to figure the bonds as carried, even though the school board might count some of the ballots thrown out when they meet today to make the official canvass of the vote.

Scores of voters tried to vote last Friday and gave up in disgust. All day long from 8 in the morning until after 9 at night a long line of voters stood awaiting their turn. From half an hour to an hour was the usual time required to vote. Mothers with young children tugging at their hands, old people to whom it was a severe ordeal, took their turn like the rest. Many stood in line a while and gave it up. Others came, looked and went away, some making repeated visits to the polling place. Many more heard of the condition and did not go to the polls at all, feeling they could not stand the strain or take the time.

When one reached the inside rear room of the kindergarten building where the voting took place, he found the election board struggling manfully with the system imposed upon them. There were four propositions, two local and two of the Pasadena high school district. For each proposition it was necessary to sign a separate register, the books being placed on the low kindergarten table, and the voter moving from chair to chair for each book. When a slow writer had to write his name, address, the fact that he was a registered voter and the name of the school district, and then repeat the performance three times at three places along that low table, the whole line was held back. Then he went into the booth and marked the four separate ballots he had been given and took them out and gave them to the judge.

In fairness to the local school board it should be said that they had nothing to do with the election arrangements. Those were made entirely by the county superintendent's office.

Mrs. White Elected

Mrs. Fletcher White, the only candidate whose name was printed on the ballot, was elected trustee with 271 votes. E. A. Calvert received the votes of 113 persons who wrote his name on the ballot.

Both the Pasadena high school bonds and junior college propositions were given large votes here and were overwhelmingly carried in the high school district as a whole.

An April Fool party was given by Miss Lillian May Dick at the home of Mrs. F. Maycock, 454 South El Molino avenue, Pasadena. The spacious rooms were prettily decorated with choice flowers. Music for dancing was furnished by several Los Angeles orchestras via the radio. Streamers of confetti caught the dancers as fox trots and waltzes and two-steps were indulged in. Mysterious games were played, fooling the wisest ones. Clown April Fool seemed to be aided by Hallow-e'en hobgoblins when it was discovered that the ice cream had been quietly removed from the back door, returning later the empty container. However, kind fairies soon brought another supply. The party dispersed at the conclusion of a very happy evening. One guest from a long distance was Mr. Elmer Mullenhagen of Detroit, Mich., a life long friend of Mr. and Mrs. F. Maycock.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. C. Roess of 83 West Highland have as house guests Mr. W. L. Roess and daughter Mary Adeline, of Oil City, Pa.

DEPUTY GRAND MATRON WILL INSPECT O. E. S.

Mrs. Mildred Buttress of Alhambra, deputy grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star in California, will pay her official visit to Sierra Madre Chapter No. 299 next Monday night. In her honor the chapter has planned a dinner to be served in the wistaria room of the club house at 6:30. This will be for members of the order only. Following the dinner the regular meeting will be held in the chapter room, when the visiting officer will be received in due form and will see the ritual work exemplified by the chapter. General arrangements for the affair were made by the matron, Mrs. George B. Morgridge, while Mrs. Blanche Muskrath, associate matron, is chairman of the dinner committee.

Water Bonds Approved By Rousing Vote

With a vote of 336 to 54, the voters of Sierra Madre approved the municipal water bond issue of $80,000 on Tuesday. The margin of more than six to one showed unmistakably the importance the voters attach to the improvement of our water system.

Strenuous work on behalf of the bonds was done by the Chamber of Commerce, especially by Secretary Berg, and by Mrs. Wright of the board of directors. Little or no opposition had been heard and it was feared the bond issue might be killed by over-confidence.

Another factor which undoubtedly kept many voters away from the polls was their experience at the school election on Friday. They did not relish the prospect of standing in line an hour awaiting a chance to vote. Knowing there was only one polling place for the whole city, they just staid away, not realizing that with only one proposition to vote on and a simpler registration, they could cast their vote and get away in two minutes.

Pertinent Comment

Sierra Madre people have been insistent in their demands for a moving picture theater these many years. Now that Manager Brown has provided them with the Wistaria Theater they have a chance to show whether they wanted it as badly as they thought they did. The character of the programs Mr. and Mrs. Brown have provided deserves liberal patronage.

The theater is now going through the critical period which every new enterprise faces, the experimental stage which often means "make or break." In addition, the audiences are showing the usual decreases of the lenten season. But there are many people who do not observe Lent at all, or to whom this form of entertainment is permissible during the period. To all these the Wistaria programs are to be especially commended.

The programs are actually much better than the patronage deserves and Mr. Brown is keeping his promise to give the best possible pictures. If you think they ought to be newer and better there is just one way to bring it to pass: Patronize the show, tell Mr. Brown you are for him and the Wistaria, and that you will do your best to bring your neighbors and friends.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Congregational church will meet next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. W. S. Hull, 359 West Central. Miss Annie M. Greene, a former president of the society, will be the speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Alexander of Spokane, Wash., are spending a few weeks at the Mira Monte hotel.

Stock Malady Places County In Quarantine

Although Sierra Madre is not a live stock center the foot and mouth disease quarantine covering Los Angeles county has some effect here. The whole county being under quarantine, the movement of live stock and stock feed to and from premises is almost completely restricted except where government permits are issued.

Local feed men are not allowed to deliver feed on private premises. They must leave it at the curb. When the sudden rain storm came up Tuesday evening, many lots of feed which had been delivered to ranches in the valley were ruined. They had been left along the street by truck drivers and the customers were taken by surprise by the rain before they could get the feed under cover.

Although the feed business is more or less tangled up in red tape by the state and government officials who have the quarantine in charge, the local dealers do not expect any difficulty in meeting the demands of their customers. Mr. Walsworth of the Sierra Madre Feed & Fuel, and Mr. Elkin of the Elkin Feed and Fuel have official permits for selling and transporting feed, and considerable supplies on hand.

Dairies Protected

No sign of the disease has appeared among the dairy herds of this immediate vicinity. The dairies are quarantined for their own protection. Outsiders are prohibited from entering the premises to prevent carrying disease to the herds. The dairymen can deliver milk as usual as long as no disease appears. In case infection is discovered the whole herd is summarily killed.

Effects of Disease

The effects of the disease which are immediate and apparent are less marked than might be expected from a thing so serious. It affects animals with cloven hoofs, by infection between the toes, also with a sore mouth. They lose their appetite and become emaciated. Sometimes they make recovery but are said to be useless for milking or for food animals. The disease is communicable in some form to human beings. Other animals are not affected, apparently but may be active carriers.

Mrs. M. D. Welcher and Mrs. Kate Parsons of Santa Monica have been spending a few days in San Diego.

Young Artist Makes Hit As Organist

Pouring rain last Tuesday night did not prevent an appreciative audience going to the Church of the Ascension for the Lenten musicale given by the choir and other artists. And all of the audience, which filled the central portion of the church, felt amply rewarded for braving the storm.

The feature of the program was the debut of Master Robert Mitchell as an organist. His three numbers showed an ability surprising even to those who have enjoyed his work at the piano. The Tannhauser Pilgrim's Chorus called for taxing pedal work, while the Ole Bull number showed a finely contrasting delicacy of expression. The latter number also revealed anew the wonderful sweet tones of the organ. Mature understanding was revealed in all his interpretations.

Mrs. Howard Lieben, guest soloist, sang "The Publican" with splendid dramatic effect. The work of the choir was especially well balanced. The solos of Mrs. Hawhurst and Mr. Lieben, and the duet by Mrs. Hawks and Mrs. Wood received most cordial approval. Miss Frances Webster's accompaniments were all that could be desired, and credit for arranging the program belongs to her as choir director.

Many requests for repetition of the program have come from persons who were kept away by the storm, and from those who want to hear it again. If another performance is found to be feasible announcement will be made later.

DANET-CUOCO

Miss Jeanne Danet and Mr. Camillo Cuoco of Venice were united in marriage in Los Angeles on Monday, March 30. The bride has many Sierra Madre friends, having resided here a number of years with Mrs. Elizabeth Borglum, the famous artist. Miss Danet herself is a young woman of much artist talent, and her husband is a well known Italian sculptor. He has done a great deal of interior decorative work for theaters and important public buildings. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cuoco came to Sierra Madre and were guests of Prof. and Mrs. John J. Hart of 496 West Central. They will make their home in Venice where Mr. Cuoco has his studio.

SALES FORCE INCREASED AT FORD AGENCY

The more Fords you sell the more you have to sell and so Milton Steinberger's Ford agency now has an increased sales force to match the new display room and the growing population of Sierra Madre. G. A. Brasted, an experienced auto salesman, is the new sales manager. He has recently been with the Kellar Brothers of Monrovia, who have just sold their agency to easterners. He is still making his home in Monrovia but expects to move to Sierra Madre just as soon as he can make satisfactory arrangements. Jack Mitchell and W. B. McConnell remain with the sales force, and W. A. Gourlay has been added, so that Mr. Steinberger now has a splendid bunch of hustlers to help keep the Ford factory busy.

Chief Kelley Tells About Police Work

Chief Charles H. Kelley of the Pasadena police department was the interesting speaker at Tuesday's Chamber of Commerce luncheon. The audience which came to hear him packed the Sierra Madre cafe to the door.

City Marshal A. M. Udell was chairman for the day and was the recipient of some choice bouquets from Chief Kelley. He called attention to Sierra Madre's comparative freedom from burglaries and other crimes which are rampant in nearly every other Southern California city. This he attributed largely to the conscientious work of Mr. Udell in preventive measures.

Crime and crime prevention is one of the most popular topics nowadays with speakers and writers, many of whom know little or nothing about their subject except that there is too much crime. Mr. Kelley did not offer any complete program of crime prevention, but made some pertinent suggestions. The ultimate remedy lies in proper training of the growing generations. Reform of criminal law is also necessary. Criminals have too many opportunities to delay justice through technicalities of procedure. The present criminal laws were framed originally by a people who needed protection from arbitrary and despotic rulers. Now they are used to protect criminals from justice meted out by the law-abiding element of the country.

Health Topic

W. S. Andrews is chairman for next Tuesday's luncheon. He has secured as speaker Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard who will speak on health conditions in Sierra Madre.

SUNDAY MARKS PASTOR'S FIRST YEAR IN CITY

The services next Sunday at the Congregational church will be in celebration of Dr. W. A. Tate's first anniversary of his coming to Sierra Madre. At the morning service the sermon topic will be "Ourselves and Our Work," and the topic will take into discussion matters of church interest.

The evening service will be "Church Night," when the various organizations of the church will have charge of the program and will review the past work and the future hopes of the congregation.

On Wednesday evening, April 9, a "Get Together" supper will be served at the church for members and friends of the parish. The church cordially invites all members and friends to be present next Sunday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Requa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Pettis of New York, and Mr. Carl W. Craft were married on March 27.

Mrs. Clifton D. Pettis, who has been spending some time in Sierra Madre, left for New York on March 28th.

Song Program at Club House This Evening

One of the most interesting and enjoyable musical events of the year is promised in the song recital to be given this evening by Gilbert Wilson, baritone. Mr. Wilson's rich voice and artistic interpretive ability will find ample range of expression in the program of songs, all of which are in English. Accompaniments will be played by Mrs. Hazel Hill Morgridge which in itself is sufficient attraction to draw many hearers. The program will contain enough variety in its five groups to suit almost any taste as may be seen by the following:

Visitors Are Still Coming To See Vine

Because many visitors are coming daily to see the wistaria vine, hosts and hostesses remain on duty at the Fennel place to welcome these strangers.

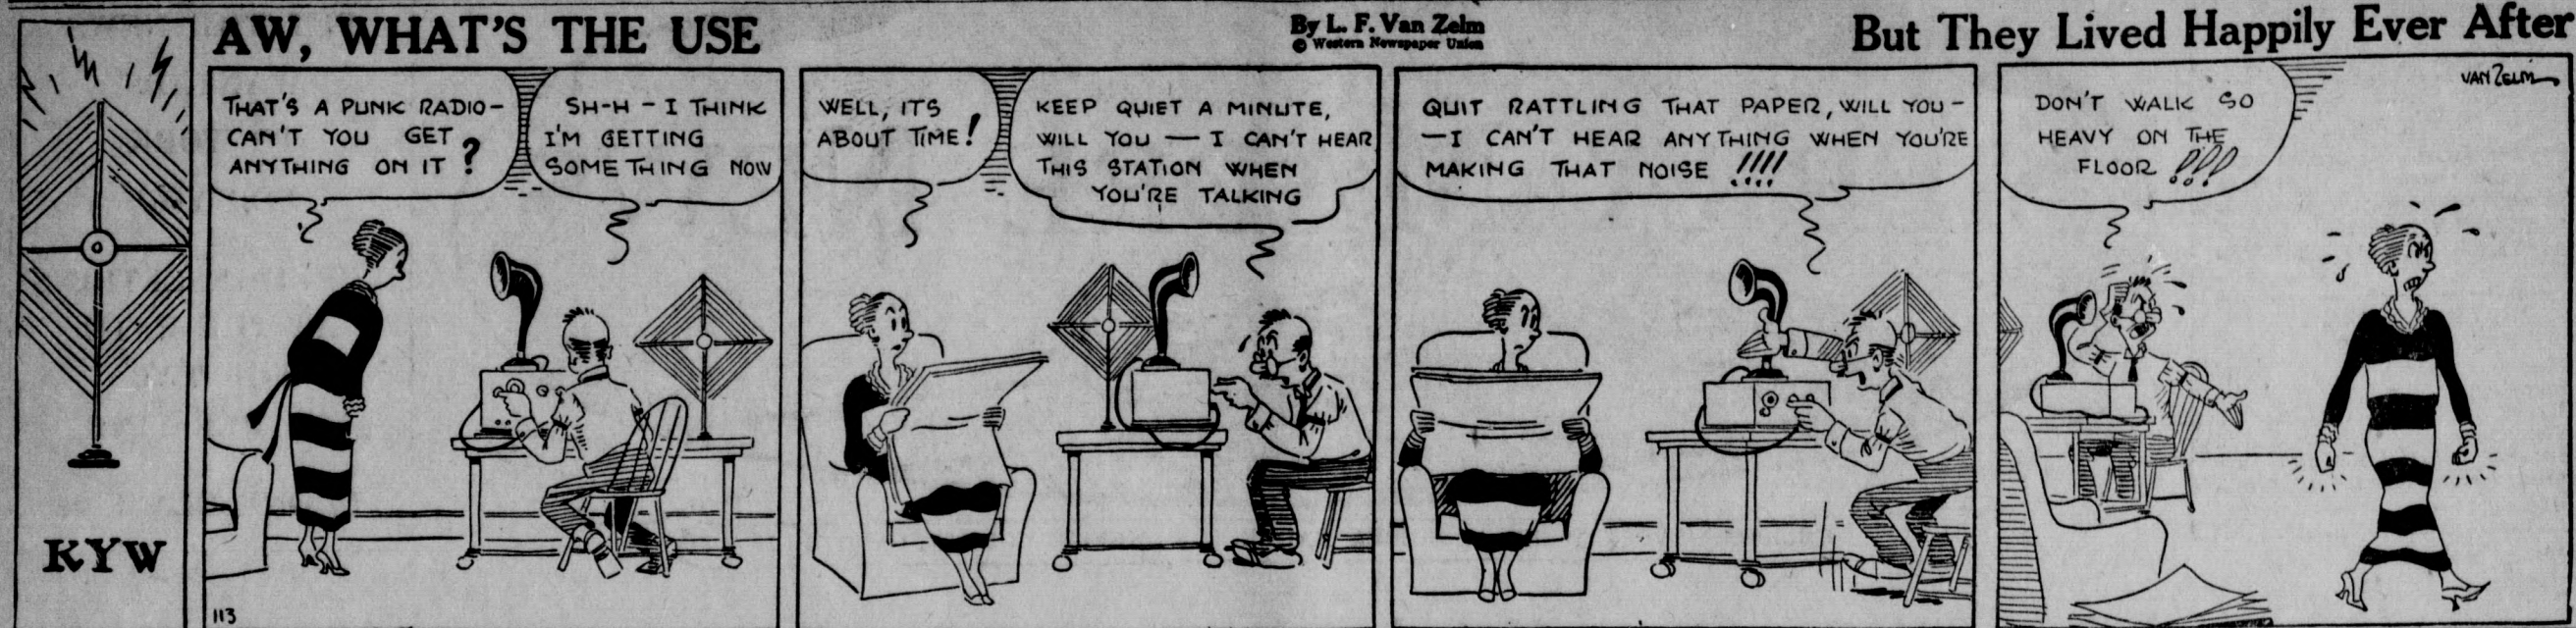

The sale of post cards and pictures amounts to several hundred each day, continuing the attractive advertising which the city is receiving through this medium. More than 8,000 post cards bearing the charming picture and alluring message of the famous vine, have been sold. A special committee will be in attendance over Sunday.

The count of beans showed 2,000 entering the main gate on last Sunday. No count was possible at the other gates.

For nearly three hours on Sunday the road over Scenic Point was choked with cars, and the five-acre parking yard completely filled, as well as double lines the entire length of Carter avenue. Visitors on this day passing over the hill were estimated at 8,000. The estimate of 30,000 visitors to Sierra Madre during this blossoming period is considered conservative.

Mr. Frank Meline was an interested visitor last Sunday with his family and some eastern friends.

The tennis tournament taking up three Saturday afternoons in celebration of the opening of the tennis courts in the park, is well under way. All those players who are interested are cordially invited to make their entries at the Chamber of Commerce by the end of next week. Trophies will be presented to the winners of the three events, namely, men's handicap singles, mixed doubles, and men's doubles.

EDITORS AND POSTMASTERS

Nelson Dilworth, former Sierra Madre boy, was installed last week as postmaster of Hemet, an item of interest to his friends here. Newspaper men all over California are interested in the event for it marks the retirement of John King, one of the last of the Wilson appointees. He will now be just "Editor John King," and to be as good an editor as he is should be honor enough for any man. That he appreciates the fact is indicated by "A Personal Word," in the last issue of the Hemet News.

This week the writer of these lines retires from the postmastership of Hemet after eight years of service in that capacity. He has no active responsibility save that of editor of the News, a position he may modestly hope to retain so long as there is no objection on the part of his business associate, and eleven years of understanding and pleasant and satisfactory personal and business relationship would seem to assure some degree of permanency, to be interrupted only by the uncertainty and precariousness of arrangements that deal with the mortal element.

And this is the job he likes and would choose of his own volition. Newspaper work has a charm indefinite, and save for occasional incursions into official position, for which a kindly appointing power though he was fitted, the writer has spent all of his boyhood and manhood, altogether more than forty years, in some printing office capacity. And during the several interims of other work he was not entirely divorced from newspaper affiliation.

And when the sum is totalled and the tale is told, there is no newspaper editor, no matter to what other field of endeavor he has temporarily wandered, but holds higher in his own heart the modest title of editor than any other that could come to him. The place offers no gauds, no trumpets sound its praises, but here is opportunity for modest service unequalled elsewhere in the business or professional world.

So few men and women of the world are satisfied with the niche they have been assigned by fate and circumstance that it is with some degree of satisfaction and possibly of vain-glory that this writer asks only to be let alone in his job of guiding the destinies of the Hemet News. It is an employment worthy of the best efforts of any man or woman, for it is a delightful work among delightful people.

MOTORISTS MAY AID SECURITY OF QUARANTINE

Motorists may be of valuable service to county and state authorities in checking the foot and mouth disease among livestock, and are urged to do their bit, in an announcement by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

It has been definitely determined that the disease easily is spread among herds of valuable cattle through carrying infected soil. Hence, the warning to all motorists to observe every quarantine regulation to the letter of the law, as their tires and shoes will carry germs unless precautions are taken.

Needed Precautions

Co-operation on the part of every person is needed to successfully eliminate the malady. While there is no danger to human beings, it spreads rapidly among cattle and may be carried from one district to another by pleasure seekers, campers, flower pickers, mushroom hunters, and dogs taken out by picnic parties.

The motorist can perform no greater service to the state at this time, it is pointed out, than to assist in every way to eradicate the treacherous and disastrous foot and mouth disease.

Protecting Orchards.

The most efficient and economical method of protecting orchards and tender vegetation against frost is to heat the lower layers of the air by burning some sort of cheap fuel.

ELKS TO STAGE BIG REVUE FOR CHARITY FUND

One of the most interesting attractions of the present theatrical season will be De Recat-Bostick's new production, "Smiles of 1924," which comes to the Pasadena High School auditorium for a limited engagement this week on Saturday, April 5th.

The new Coast Directors, DeRecat-Bostick, have assembled a capable company of upward of 50 entertainers for this spring's tour, and some very important theater names comprise this organization, such as Annette Kellerman—the wonder girl—who will make her initial bow to the theater goers of Pasadena on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Abe Lyman's theatrical addition of his Ambassador Band Syncopaters, Belcher's Ballet and a trio of comedians, namely, Harry Gribbon of stage and screen fame; Rex Story, formerly of Ziegfeld Follies, and Rudolph Valentino's only rival for beauty, Bull Montana. A chorus of many beautiful and handsome maidens support the stellar roles—selected not only for beauty but ability to sing and dance.

Seats are now to be had at Hunter & Williams, 49 E. Colorado St., Pasadena, scale of prices ranging from 50 cents to $1.00. Early reservations are urged as owing to the limited engagement many will be disappointed. This affair is being staged under the auspices of the Pasadena Lodge of Elks.

What Constitutes Decomposed Rock

Decomposed rock can be solidified again either by applying great pressure or by injecting cement, or by doing both. Thus sands are formed into sandstones, clays become shales and calcareous deposits yield limestone. Aside from their cementing materials, sandstones differ in composition exactly as did the sands of which they are composed. Sandstone, according to the United States geological survey, may be nearly pure quartz, or quartz and feldspar, or quartz, feldspar and mica, and it may vary in texture from the fine to the coarse. Some sandstones are so coarse that they will hold six quarts of water to the cubic foot, and underground deposits of such sandstone form excellent reservoirs, which may yield a never failing supply of water.

PHONES HAVE HARD TIME TO MEET GROWTH

"Los Angeles and all Southern California points are presenting a great problem of telephone growth," Manager Emley of the Sierra Madre Telephone Co. says.

"One of the mileposts in this year's expansion program was reached on midnight, March 29, when the big cut-over to the simplified method of operation put into service apparatus that has cost $1,300,000 and the new March 30, red-covered directory went into use. Because of these changes Sierra Madre people should not fail to call 'Information' and make sure of their number before placing a telephone call to Los Angeles, unless the March 30 directory is available."

The new simplified method of operation in Los Angeles permits all subscribers using machine switching telephones to dial all numbers, whether machine switching or manual. To make the new method operative it has been necessary to assign office names to practically all machine switching numbers and to capitalize the first two letters of all office names to indicate that they are to be dialed as a part of the telephone number.

Douglas Fir Is Named for Man Who Found It

The noble Douglas spruce or fir tree was discovered by the botanical explorer, David Douglas, for whom it is named. In 1826.

The Indians of the Lower Columbia watched him with lively curiosity as he wandered about the woods day after day, gazing intently on the ground or at the great trees, collecting specimens of everything he saw, but, unlike all the eager, fur-gathering strangers they had hitherto seen, caring nothing about trade, relates "Steep Trails," by John Muir, the Detroit News recalls. And when at length they came to know him better and saw that from year to year the growing things in the woods and prairies, meadows and plains were the only object of pursuit, they called him the "Man of Grass," a title of which he was proud.

Douglas was a Scotchman, and first came to the west coast in the spring of 1825 under the auspices of the London Horticultural society, landing at the mouth of the Columbia river after a long, dismal voyage of eight months and fourteen days. It was while making a trip to Mount Hood that he discovered the two largest and most beautiful fir trees in the world, and from the seed he then collected and sent home tall trees are now growing in Scotland.

"Pin in the Candle" Law

There was an old French peasant law called "The Pin in the Candle," interpreted by the English as "The Right to Be Heard." In the old days if a man and his wife disagreed, the official to whom an appeal was made put two pins in a lighted tallow candle, equidistant apart, says the Detroit News. The husband was allowed to walk until the flame burned down to his pin, and then he had to listen while his wife talked until the flame reached her pin.

This law passed into oblivion long since, but its influence became a part of the family life of France, as the Delinquent tells us. It is a tradition—particularly among the peasants—when a family dispute arises and one member prolongs a scolding or complaint, for the rest of the family to say: "It is now mother's pin in the candle," or, "It is now father's pin in the candle!"

Color of Water Varies

To speak of color in water seems absurd. A tumbler of water from the tap shows no color at all. How many instances there are, though, where water seems to be colored, either by reflection of light or by material or organisms contained in it.

As a rule, tropical seas appear quite blue, and as one travels farther from the equator the blue gradually changes to green, remarks London Tit-Bits.

The color varies according to the amount of salt in solution in the water, and as the concentration of salt is greater when evaporation is greatest and, therefore, where the sun is strongest, the blue is intensified toward the equator.

In the case of the Mediterranean the salt is further concentrated owing to the fact that less fresh water is deposited into it by rivers. The blue sky also increases the color of the sea by its reflection.

Bacillus Starts Bread

The Welch bacillus, a tiny plant found in infected wounds, is also thought to be the active agent of a "starter" used in the manufacture of salt-rising bread.

OIL WELL IS READY TO GO ANOTHER LAP

Various stories have been in circulation regarding the progress of the oil well now being sought in Arcadia by the Vosburgh Oil company. The derrick near the foot of Santa Anita Ave. is the mecca for thousands of sightseers, who bring away varying reports. They vary from a well about to be put on production to a collapsed dry hole.

J. S. G. Sargeant, manager of the enterprise, has issued a statement telling just what was being done at the well at the present time and what could be expected within the next few days. Stories that the well had collapsed and other such tales were absurd, he said.

Cementing off, with the several hundred feet of casing placed before the rotary drill was installed in the well, is now virtually completed. The cement will have to stand a period of 48 hours. It will then be drilled through and 12½-inch casing set to a depth of 3000 feet. Workmen will start setting this long casing this week. The well will then be again cemented off, a process which will take another 24 hour period. Forty-eight hours will next be required for this second cement to set and dry. Following this the drill will be set to work in quest of richer oil strata at levels a thousand feet below the present sands.

Gas has been a continual source of drawback at the well since before the first sands were reached. As work has advanced the danger from the gas has become more and more apparent, so that a number of precautionary measures have been taken. The setting of casing to the 2000 foot level is one of the last ordered of those steps. It was only resorted to when gas pressure forced sand into the well from the side walls and filled up 300 feet of the hole.

TOURIST RUSH OF 1924 WILL BEAT RECORD

Make ready for the motor tourist rush is the word that comes to Southern California from all parts of the country. Indications are that the high record of visiting motorists last season will go crashing with the influx of 1924.

Advice reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California from many eastern points indicates that the cars shipped into the state through the forwarding department will show a gain over last year of 100 per cent. All transcontinental trails probably will be crowded as soon as warm weather sets in, so that it behooves communities having auto camps to be prepared.

ON HE WRONG SIDE

Johnnie, to new visitor—So you are my grandma, are you?

Grandmother—Yes, Johnnie, I'm your grandma on your father's side.

Johnnie—Well, you're on the wrong side; you'll soon find that out.

DR. BAYNE AGAIN URGES NEED FOR MORE SIDEWALK

Sierra Madre, Mar. 24.—Editor Sierra Madre News, Dear Sir:

I wish to call your attention to the much needed improvement being made at the corner of East Mira Monte and Mountain Trail streets, by Messrs. W. T. Michael and Son. This is one of the most sightly places in town, and I presume seen by more transient people who visit our city than any other corner, whether they come by automobile or Pacific Electric. It is located at the northern terminus of Mountain Trail and at the eastern terminus of Mira Monte avenue, right opposite the trail barns, where every person must come to ascend Mount Wilson either on foot or by mule.

It has long been a favorite place for dumping all kinds of rubbish and garbage from the barns, the trail folk and other places on the opposite side of the street. When the pile gets uncomfortably high some one sets fire to it and commences dumping at the other end. The material being not very combustible, I have seen fire smoldering there for days. By the time the fire gets out at that end they start a fire at the other end and continue their dumping where the fire has partly consumed the old pile. In this way there is a fire maintained almost continually and reminds me of the place mentioned in the scriptures as the place where "the worm dieth not and where the fire is not quenched." I used to when quite young have a dreadful fear of my disenfranchised soul getting into that place. But an older bible student told me that passage had reference to a valley near Jerusalem that was used by the city for a dumping place for their garbage and other rubbish and when decomposition took place the worms commenced to work and when it was sufficiently honey-combed so the air could get in and dry it the fire was started. The fire followed the worm and the dumping followed the fire so the operation was perpetual, and that version was a great relief to me.

Store Improvement

Now Mr. Michael and his son have outgrown their present store quarters and are building across the street on the lot they have bought, fronting on Mountain Trail and Mira Monte. In addition to an attractive store building, they are going to substitute neat, attractive picnic accommodations and auto park for the old smoldering garbage heap.

This will certainly be a big improvement in this neighborhood and I hope the people will show their appreciation of it by the amount of patronage they give them. And now if by any means either by "hook or crook," we can induce the property owners to build sidewalks in front of their premises it will make the street one of the most desirable streets in the city and double the value of their property. I believe Mountain Trail avenue of all the thoroughfares in the city, is the most destitute of sidewalks, when it should be the best provided. It is the terminus of the Pacific Electric where so many people alight and walk up to the trail leading to the mountain resorts. It is an up hill grade the entire distance. During the rainy seasons the water gullies out the center of the walk, making travel very unpleasant. You either have to walk with one foot on each side of the gully, or with one foot in the gully and the other on the higher part of the walk, giving you the appearance of having one leg shorter than the other. It must be very unpleasant for a gentleman wanting to take the arm of a lady friend to help her up the hill. One or the other must walk in the ditch, or they must walk far enough apart so that they can keep the ditch between them.

If I had the authority I would offer every person a premium of at

MAKING SHOES LAST LONGEST BY GOOD CARE

The shoe repair man is placed in a difficult position nowadays, says Henry Olsen, proprietor of Sierra Madre's pioneer shoe store. Many inferior substitutes for leather are put into shoes in order to sell them at an apparently low price. They do not wear well and when brought to the repair man he finds they are actually not worth repairing.

Shoe economy, he says, lies in buying shoes well made from good materials, and then in taking care of them.

It is well to remember that all shoes should be used with sense, given decent care and attention and be brought to the repairer the minute they show sole wear. A stitch in time saves nine. The best repairer in the world cannot make a good looking shoe out of one wrecked by neglect and abuse, a shoe worn too long; and the repairer himself does not like to do a job on such a shoe, because the result is satisfactory neither to you nor him. The repairer naturally prefers to do a job of repairing on a welt shoe because it lends itself to better work, cleaner and more workmanlike work.

It is to a man's own profit and peace of mind in these days of high prices to save where saving can be done by the exercise of good sense and the preservation of his own self-respect. Better to repair a good shoe than to waste money buying new ones; and the welt shoe having the longest life in usage and the best appearance after long wear is essentially the shoe of economy. It is a shoe that saves him money, preserves his self-respect, gives ease and comfort to his feet, and, with care and attention, has a good long life.

Split Infinitives.

There are bushels of magazines in the United States now, but still only about six that you can sell highbrow stuff to—we glory in split infinitives.

Illiteracy in China.

It is reported that 90 per cent of China's population have no voice in its affairs because they cannot read or write.

least ten per cent of the cost of building a good cement walk in front of his premises and deduct it from his taxes. I find that the greater lack of sidewalks is in front of the property of the old inhabitants and the most expensive residences. The new places being built as a general thing have sidewalks.

If this letter has the effect of inducing one property owner to build a walk in front of his premises I will feel that my labor has not been in vain.

Yours very truly,

A. BAYNE.

Where the Dead Are

"Where Are the Dead?" a minister asks. That is easily answered, says the Monrovia News. The dead are in the town that has no civic spirit. When you find a bunch of hard luck prophets panning the town and predicting how cheap property will be when hard times come again, when you see them get a chill of nervous apprehension every time they hear of a boost in the price of property, you will know that the dead are there.

The dead are in a town that will not spend a dollar upon its own improvement. When you see a town that mills around on the street and threatens a revolt because the city council ran the goats off Main street, you will know that the dead are there. The dead are in the town where they are satisfied to use a cinder path instead of a cement walk. When you see a town where they would rather drive around a big rut rather than go to the expense and trouble of fixing the street, you will know the dead are there.

The dead are in a town that does an enormous mail order business. When you see a town that is filled with a lot of long distance traders who are willing to let the doorways of the local stores become barred with a thick lacework of cobweb while they make a well beaten path to the express office where they trade perfectly good dollars for perfectly shoddy stuff, you will know that the dead are there.

The dead are in the town that listens to the siren call of some large city that offers the same thing for twice the price, but does it with a rapturous gift of speech. When you see a town that races off to a big city and spends ten dollars in a store covering a city block for an article that could have been purchased for five at home, you will know that the dead are there. It is from that class of people that merchants in the cities are able to build stores that cover a city block in a big city, while the stock in the stores at home become food for moths.

The dead are in the town that says, "Aw, we are growing fast enough. We don't want any more people to come here." When a town has lost its pride in the growth of its industries, business and population, you will know that the dead are there.

The dead abide where they cease to advertise. When a city or a business or a man comes to the conclusion that it, they or he does not need to advertise; that it, they or he is well enough known already, then dissolution is taking place and the need is near at hand.

The live ones boost for their own town, they spend their money in it and get others to come and do the same.

MOTORISTS AID IN PREVENTING FOREST FIRES

Every motorist and, in fact, every resident of California this year is directly affected by the lack of rainfall, and the consequent danger of brush and forest fires. These disastrous conflagrations have occurred in the so-called wet season, indicating conclusively that the danger in the dry season will be multiplied many fold.

To insure extraordinary precautions against fire on the part of all campers and motorists generally, the Automobile Club of Southern California is calling attention to the lesson of forest protection week just designated by President Coolidge for April 21 to 27 inclusive.

The observance this spring will mark the fourth annual intensive campaign to acquaint the public with the serious unnecessary damage caused by forest fires. More than 36,000 fires occur every year in the United States and an area of approximately 11,000,000 acres is swept by flames. Most of this appalling destruction comes in the western states, principally in the Pacific Coast district.

Fires Decrease Water Supply
In Southern California these fires destroy the efficiency of the water sheds upon which every citizen is directly dependent for domestic and agricultural needs.

It is highly probable that camp fire permits will be issued sparingly and that the closest watch will be kept on every one entering the national forests. One careless smoker may devastate thousands of acres of invaluable water shed and destroy ranch houses, cattle and game.

Every effort should be made by every individual in Southern California, declares the auto club, to prevent fires starting. It is pointed out that never before has the danger been so great from fires or has there been such need of protecting all the brush and timber.

HOME THEATER GIVES PATRONS FINE PROGRAM

Improvements now in progress at the Wistaria theater do not interfere with the regular programs and will make the house much more attractive and comfortable for patrons. Mr. Brown is altering the front so as to give better lobby facilities and is also building a marquis over the sidewalk.

Mr. Brown continues to provide better pictures than the patronage deserves as the audiences show the effect of Lenten observance. Another week of varied, high grade films is announced.

Following the last showing of "Six Days" tonight, the program for Saturday matinee and evening will be "Yellow Men and Gold." This Gouverneur Morris story is portrayed by Helene Chadwick, Richard Dix and a capable cast. It is a story of breathless adventure mixed with romance, mystery, and conflict. For Sunday matinee and Monday evening the attraction is "Come on Over" a Rupert Hughes story with Colleen Moore as the star. It is a "comedy of love" that is different.

In "Racing Hearts," which comes on Tuesday and Wednesday, Agnes Ayres pilots an auto in a real race, and the story is full of thrills.

One of the biggest features yet secured for the Wistaria is "The Spoilers," which comes Thursday and Friday. This famous Rex Beach story was produced for Goldwyn by Jesse D. Hampton. Alaskan stories are among the most popular for novel and screen and this is one of the best.

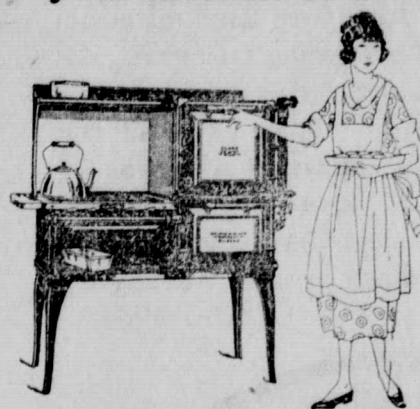

All through the week, comedy, scenic and other added features contribute to the enjoyment of patrons.

DISASTER AT MANY POINTS CALLS FOR RED CROSS RELIEF

Although the seasonal disasters that may be expected at this time of the year have not yet demanded the attention of the American Red Cross the disaster relief service of the organization is co-operating at various places at home and abroad, both in National and Chapter phases, according to information received by Mayor Mitchell, chairman of the local chapter.

To help combat a typhoid epidemic at Lincoln Memorial University, at Harrogate, Tenn., National Headquarters has made $10,000 available in addition to which Southern Division personnel are on the scene.

National Headquarters has also just cabled $5,000 for the relief of victims of the earthquake in Costa Rica.

The Red Cross has been designated the official relief agency to effect the rehabilitation of widows and orphans whose bread-winners died in the fertilizer plant explosion at Nixon, N. J. National funds made available and New Brunswick Chapter personnel on the scene.

The Carbon County Chapter was promptly at work caring for the families of scores of miners entombed in the serious mine disaster at Castle Gate, Utah, and National funds have been proffered and national personnel are present.

At Crosby, Minn., Red Cross workers are continuing the rehabilitation of families affected by the recent mine flood there.

Santa Paula Chronicle: In Santa Paula, and the smaller cities and towns generally, one having money on deposit at the local bank can get it, at any time, by making out and presenting a check. But a balance to one's credit is vitally necessary, for the rule against overdrafts is enforced.

It's different, quite different, in Los Angeles. When in Los Angeles and in need of money all you have to do in order to obtain it is to go into a

NOW YOU CAN START A NEW LAWN SAFELY

Soil and water conditions have been somewhat discouraging this spring to people harboring an ambition to plant a new lawn. The late rains have altered things completely and there is now every incentive to proceed with this very desirable improvement for the home place. Mr. Elkin of the Elkin Feed & Fuel store hands in the following as good sound advice on how best to start lawns:

In the beginning the first and most important point is to get the proper grade, where you are going to make the lawn. Wherever any fill might have been made, or where ditches have been dug, it is well to see that they are thoroughly settled. The only way to do this is to checker the ground, in squares of two to three feet and flood with water.

After this is done, dig or plow the ground to a depth of eight inches; afterwards harrow or rake carefully. Pulverize all lumps and remove all large stones that come in contact or on the surface.

Use Fertilizer

If the soil is shallow and sandy, we recommend that you procure a supply of fine rich loam and spread it over the surface, to a depth of about four inches. To enrich the soil about 50 pounds of steam bone meal to about 1000 square feet. Thoroughly incorporate this into the soil to a depth of about 2 to 3 inches. The reason for this is that bone meal is not available as a plant food all at one time and when this amount is put into the soil the grass will derive benefit from the bone meal for at least one year.

We then recommend using a commercial fertilizer at the same rate of 50 pounds to 100 square feet, which should be deeply raked into the soil about one to 1½ inches with the ordinary garden rake.

Now the ground is ready to finish. Rake as level as possible, leaving the ground at least three-quarters of an inch below the level of the sidewalks (be sure and firm around edges so as it will not settle after it is watered) then roll with a light roller, so as to make the surface a solid foundation for the sowing of the seed. Sow the grass and clover seed separately, at the rate of one pound to 150 square feet.

Sowing Seed

I would advise marking the surface in strips 5 feet wide, giving you an outline to follow when you are sowing the seed. Sow the clover first, because it is heavier seed, then the bluegrass seed, and if you attempt to mix the two together the clover seed will all be at the bottom of the receptacle and you cannot get an even distribution of your clover seed. We generally use one-third clover and two-thirds Kentucky blue grass.

Now rake the seed well into the soil. Rake generally both ways, as you cannot expect seed to grow if you do not get it covered. Through the winter months and in the early spring no top covering is necessary, but in the summer time, when we have extreme heat, we would advise using pine shavings. Be sure there is no redwood in them because the acid of the red wood kills the young lawn. Shavings have no other value than merely acting as a shade for young grass. Be sure to cover very lightly so as not to smother the young grass.

Watering Young Lawns

The watering of the lawn in the beginning should be watched very closely and see that the soil does not dry out in the heat of the day, for if it does while the seed is germinating it is liable to perish and your efforts are at a loss.

When the grass is approximately one-inch high it should be thoroughly rolled both ways, this firms the young roots and makes the grass stool out or thicken up. After that your lawn is ready for cutting.

Eradicate weeds; whenever they appear pull them out in such a man-

Meeting the demand of scores of irate citizens, the Board of Supervisors today refused to grant the petition for the establishment of the proposed Lawndale Memorial cemetery on the Armstrong ranch near Glendora.

OWNERS PROTEST

A big delegation of property owners, headed by L. M. Carroll, denounced the proposed establishment of the cemetery, declaring that it would not only decrease real estate values in that vicinity but would prevent the district from growing in the future as fast as it had in the past and in keeping with the standard set by other communities.

This was denied by Attorney Bud Hill, who represented the company sponsoring the cemetery. He said the burial plot would be established more on the order of a park than a cemetery and that it would aid rather than injure values of surrounding properties.

OBJECTION UPHOLD

"It would present a much better appearance than some of the Jap shacks on nearby property," he asserted.

On the motion of Supervisor Jack Bean, who held that the establishment of the cemetery would violate a county ordinance prohibiting a graveyard nearer than one mile to 100 houses, the supervisors unanimously voted in favor of the demonstrators.

PLANS ENLARGED POWER DEVELOPMENT

President John B. Miller of the Southern California Edison Company in addressing the annual meeting of stockholders tomorrow will announce that the project of the company has been greatly increased. Mr. Miller will say that from the water power electrical development on the company's Big Creek-San Joaquin River project, with additional steam reserve the Edison generating capacity will be increased by 2,250,000 horse-power. Its present capacity is 500,000 horse-power of water and steam generated electricity. Among the achievements of the company which will be contained in the annual report which Mr. Miller will present to the stockholders are the following:

During the year 17,529 stockholders were added, bringing the total number up to 65,636.

One hundred and thirty thousand horse-power of electric energy has been developed from the Big Creek-San Joaquin River project during the year. Auxiliary steam power necessary to render the equilibrium between water and steam generation amounting to 132,000 horse-power will be added during the present year.

Mr. Miller will state that new business amounting to 219,046 horse-power has been contracted for during the year, which will absorb the capacity of new plants constructed last year. Fifty-four thousand, four hundred new consumers were added during the year, making a total of 248,000 consumers served direct from the company's lines, and 150,000 more through energy sold wholesale to municipalities for re-sale.

Concerning rates for electric service the annual report will set forth that on 1-1-15, 1923 a further reduction in rates was authorized by the Railroad Commission, making the present rates lower than the rates prevailing prior to the war, a condition made possible by the expansion of the company's business and the efficiency and economy resulting from the gradual consummation of its great program of hydro electric development.

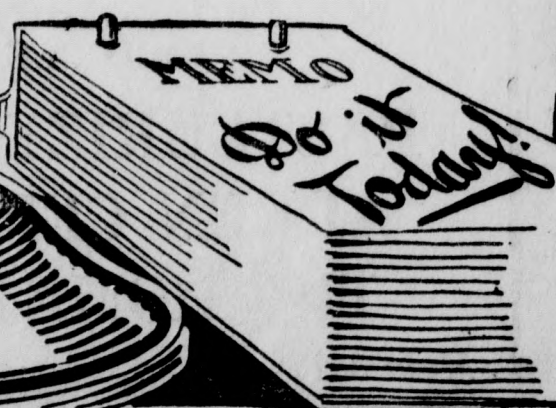

The present year's budget appropriation for construction of water power and steam generation properties and for transmission and distribution will amount to $26,288,000. The company expects to finance this by the sale of preferred stock amounting to $8,000,000, which will enable it to sell bonds amounting to approximately $18,000,000.

The chief construction activities of the company this year are adding extensively to its steam power auxiliary and forcing to rapid completion the great Florence Lake tunnel in the High Sierras by about February, 1925, which will provide an additional water supply sufficient to generate 600,000 horse-power of new electric power.

CHILDREN SHOULD BE STARTED RIGHT

(By Charles H. Shinn, U. S. Forestry Service)

The long winter evenings by the fireside, after the day's work is done, give parents a chance to read more books of the best sort, and to get closer to the hearts of the children. With forest workers it ought to mean more knowledge of the need of all the youngsters in their region.

Now for my story. Once, in my boyhood, I went into a bunch of willows by a creek. A dozen hobos had a fire and were cooking stolen chicken and told me how much fun they had. When I demurred and argued that real hard work was a much better game, one of them told me that I talked too much, one wanted to club me, and one told me to clear out quick, but shouted that they were tramps because they didn't know how to work (a great truth in that). This last tramp was named "Happy Jack"—and several things he said stay in my thoughts. One was, "Give a boy a real chance and he won't be a hobo."

Years of later experience as teacher and forester have taught me that if one can start the children right it means about everything. And children "want to know, you know" the sort of world they live in. They are hungry for facts. Why should not forest men become fully posted on the resources of California, so as to know our forests, our mountains, the relation of them to the valleys and cities and their place in the order of things? You, the forest workers of California, can amazingly help to create in the hearts of young Californians a definite and complete sense of personal responsibility for our wonderful forests. Do this, then, with all your force; go on building up our splendid profession which, taken in the rightful spirit, has no superior on earth—and hardly, some of us think, its equal.

ABSENT VOTER LAW IN FORCE

Absent voter law, enacted by the last legislature will get its tryout here May 6, at the presidential primaries.

The working of this law will be watched with interest. It will necessitate a special set of ballots and supplies. As to the number of electors who will make application for the absent voters' ballot, it is hard to make any estimate. It may run up to two or three hundred in the county.

Persons who are absent from their precinct but are in the state may take advantage of the absent voters' law. Not more than 10 days nor less than five days before any of the elections in which the law applies, any absent voter may make his application in writing to the county clerk or registrar of voters of the county or city of his residence for such ballot.

The absent voters' law applies only in the case of the presidential primary on May 6, the August primary and the general election in November.

It does not apply in the case of city elections nor in the bond elections for various purposes.

While absent voters laws have been operative in other states for several years, this will be the first time that the law has been in use here and the outcome of it in the May primary will be watched with interest.

STATE EDITORS WILL GATHER AT RIVERSIDE

Dates for the gathering at Riverside of the California State Press association have been announced by the Riverside Chamber of Commerce.

The convention will open on May 17 and the delegates will be in or around the city for one week from that date.

One of the days will be given over to a basket picnic in Fairmount Park. This will be promoted by the chamber of commerce.

The editors will visit Redlands, Palm Springs, Coachella valley and the Valencia orange show at Anaheim during the stay. The business sessions of the convention will be held in the music room of the Glenwood Mission Inn.

Numerous social functions are being planned for the week. Governor Friend W. Richardson, president of the association, will be there and preside at the meetings.

HER SYMPATHY

Two Irish women were discussing a railroad accident. One asked the other if any were killed in the terrible crash. She replied: "Sure, twenty-seven O'italians and wan Irishman," whereupon Mrs. Dooley, with a long sigh, came back with: "Oh, the pore feller."—New York Central Magazine.

COMMUNITY SING NEEDS SUPPORT OF SIERRA MADRE

not wish that; it is our sing, and to each one of us belongs the joy of supporting that which is our very own.

If by an oversight, you are one who did not answer the first call, you can make it right with your conscience and your sing by sending in a double amount. We believe that in his heart every one of us wants our splendid sing to continue, and to take our part in building up this great monument to friendliness, love and good citizenship.

Music Week in County May 4 to 11

Your music week committee, Mrs. F. P. Miller, Mr. H. Lieben and Mr. Jack Buchan, is preparing a fine program and Sierra Madre will again have her opportunity to shine forth. The president, Mrs. Milton Steinberger, has been asked by Mr. Alexander Stewart to serve on the executive board for Los Angeles county, and will aid us in every way possible to bring our efforts to a successful head. We shall have to live up to our splendid reputation abroad and the committee asks each one of you to be on your mettle and come out each sing night. Even if you think you cannot sing, there is always a great uplift in numbers and we need your enthusiasm. The committee will publish their plans for music week in the next issue of the News.

Return Meeting with Alhambra

The community sing is now preparing for their return meeting with Alhambra, and we need every voice in Sierra Madre. Alhambra is out for our scalp, and they will be a little more difficult to beat, and although we want to keep our scalplock braided for any to take it who can, we must defend it and so keep it securely on our head. The date of the contest will be announced next week.

Guessing Contest Closes

The winners of the guessing contest on last Thursday were Miss Mattie Seeley, who took first place with a score of 23 names out of 25 drawn; Mrs. Charles Klunk, Miss Elizabeth and Mrs. Fred Griebenow had an exciting time playing off for second and third places, much to the enjoyment of the entire sing. The finals gave second place to Mrs. Klunk and third to Mrs. Griebenow. The prizes, three beautifully illuminated and framed mottoes, made doubly precious by the autograph of our fine leader, Mr. Kirchhofer.

Come to your community sing every Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Woman's Club house, and there meet your neighbors and welcome the strangers in our midst.

CITRUS PRUNING FIELD DAY SET

The Agricultural Extension Service of Los Angeles County has announced April 11 as the date on which a special citrus pruning field day will be held. The object of this field trip will be to visit orchards and demonstration plots on which different pruning practices have been conducted, in order to study the different responses of the trees. A special feature of the day will be a study of the pruning plots conducted on the Azusa Foothill Citrus company's orchards, including old and young Valencias, old and young navels and lemon trees.

which I am too sensible to do," said Aunt Julia, "I'd tell her that if she keeps her husband thinking he's the most wonderful thing that ever happened, he's not likely to go around hunting for dust in the corners."

"My sentiments on being happily married are—Spend less time on your house and more time on yourself and your husband."

You may not agree with Aunt Julia's diagnosis of men, but hundreds of women will tell you that our laundry does save many valuable hours from household routine.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

In accordance with the request of the district officers, the regular club session which would be held at 2:30 next Wednesday will be omitted, to permit all members to attend the all-day session of the district meeting at Glendale. This meeting will be held at the Tuesday Afternoon Club house, one of Glendale's most notable and beautiful buildings. In the evening the Sierra Madre club's drama section, under Mrs. Glenwood Jones' capable direction, will reproduce the Shakespeare pageant before the convention.

The club's delegates are the president, Mrs. W. J. Lawless, Mrs. W. E. Walker and Mrs. H. T. Fennel, with Mrs. A. F. Snell, Mrs. Spencer Howard and Miss Harriet Grant as alternates.

Because of rain, the music program on Wednesday, March 26, was postponed, and Esra Racklin, a notable young pianist, will be heard in May.

On April 23 Mr. Max Wardall will lecture before the club.

The club is receiving congratulations on the success of the Wistaria Fete, which in spite of the heavy expenditures involved, amounting to more than $2,000, will enable the club to pay many of its obligations incident to its building work. More important than the expected profit is the fine demonstration of team work and devotion on the part of the members, and the remarkable achievement in attracting and entertaining the thousands of visitors. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Lehner were at their posts every day for the entire period of 17 days, and Mrs. Fennel, smiling, courteous and helpful, encouraged all through the sometimes trying hours.

The splendid support from the members as a whole and from many women who were not members, alone made the affair possible of success.

The board voted an honorary membership to Mrs. Fennel, and has sent a small check to the Camp Fire girls for their treasury. The proceeds of Friday, March 28, will defray the expense of the Shakespeare pageant at Glendale.

The Boy Scouts' concession netted a tidy sum. Scoutmaster Stovall has written hearty thanks to the club for the chance given the troop to earn needed money. The $125 has been placed in the bank, to be used for troop equipment and emergency purposes, flowers for the sick, etc.

Drama Department

(A Word from the Chairman)
It was complimentary to be one of four clubs in a district consisting of 138, to be invited to participate in the program of the district convention.

We were invited and urged to present our Shakespearean pageant on the evening of Wednesday, April 9. The invitation was graciously accepted and on Wednesday, April 2, we had our first rehearsal in Glendale.

It is somewhat of an undertaking to finance the production, and also a task to carry the cast and properties to that city. It is really a big thing for a small city to do.

It also means publicity for Sierra Madre, and the high ideals which our community and our woman's club stand for.

And so—our lovely women are to realize once again this season the joy of service; service for the very love of it, and the realization of having created a thing of beauty, and thereby made the community and the world a bit brighter. As chairman of the drama department, I would like to publicly pay tribute to my associates in the Sierra Madre Woman's club. They are inspirational. I am happy to have the privilege of working with them.

OLD MALADY

The Rev. Norman Inwood of East Grand View avenue passed away early Saturday morning at the Sierra Madre hospital where he had been taken the night before on account of an acute attack of nephritis. Although he had been a sufferer for years his condition was not considered dangerous by his friends as he had been able to go to Los Angeles only the day before. His sudden taking off was therefore a severe shock to all who knew him.

Mr. Inwood was 41 years of age and a native of Ireland. He was educated in Europe and received his theological training in Toronto. He subsequently held important posts in the Episcopal church, the last being as chaplain to Bishop Burgess of the diocese of Long Island. Since coming to Sierra Madre he occasionally officiated at the Church of the Ascension. He and Madame Inwood had resided here about three years, except for a year spent in Bermuda, where Madame Inwood had charge of the vocal music in the high school.

A quiet, scholarly man, Mr. Inwood leaves a large circle of friends. In addition to his wife, he is survived by his parents and two sisters who live in England. Funeral services were held Monday at the Church of the Ascension by Rev. Father Ruggles of Los Angeles and Dean Shaw, interment taking place at the Sierra Madre cemetery.
